"We'll take care of everything. Most importantly, you."

The grand reopening, Barrière style

Welcome to the long awaited return of our Paris Gaming Club!

The time has thankfully come for us to reopen Barrière's 1st Gaming Club: Club Barrière Paris, 104 Champs-Élysées recently opened its doors again, on June 22nd 2020 at 1pm.

For Dominique Desseigne, Président Directeur Général de Barrière

«The reopening of most of our establishments is wonderful news for our Group. Faced with a public health and economic crisis that is affecting all sectors of activity, especially leisure and tourism, our team members have all have got involved, in their own way, offering their expertise and innovative ideas to ensure the implementation of new sanitation procedures, and to preempt guests' expectations in our hotels, restaurants, bars and casinos.

Today, we want to take an active role in the economical recovery of tourism in France, being instrumental in bringing back quality time together and peace of mind. Our sole aim is to take care of everything. Most importantly, you».

In line with government orders, comprehensive health and safety procedures have been introduced at Club Barrière Paris, 104 Champs-Élysées to ensure they tick all the boxes needed to welcome customers.

We have had to adapt the social and professional organisation of our daily lives. Welcoming customers to our Gaming Club requires new health and safety procedures, as well as protective measures. Whilst respecting current regulations that require these new practices, layout changes ensure guests still get the very most out of their visit. Respecting social distancing means adjustments need to be made to the different areas, with the addition of signs, protective equipment, hand sanitiser and disinfectant wipes at the Club entrance and on each table, with wearing face masks compulsory for all staff and customers. As well as strict, regular cleaning of all surfaces and high-touch areas (chips, cards, credit card and change machines etc.).

At Club Barrière Paris, 104 Champs-Élysées, the traditional gaming tables are now open from 1pm to 6am. And the Poker tables are open from 2pm to 5am. Players will be pleased to discover a new game is now available too, Stud Poker, with just a 20 euro minimum bet.

In addition, players and non-players can get together in the sociable atmosphere of Dépôt Légal, renowned Chef Christophe Adams' restaurant at Club Barrière Paris, 104 Champs-Élysées for lunch or dinner. His innovative and unpretentious cuisine is served from 1pm to 5am, with a brand-new menu to delight the tastebuds.

With Barrière, experience your newly-found leisure activities in a whole new way.

We'll take care of everything. Most importantly, you!

About Barrière

The Barrière brand sells two separate groups of hotels, casinos and restaurants: Groupe Lucien Barrière (GLB) and Société Fermière du Casino Municipal de Cannes (SFCMC).
